

Important Notice to Students – EFFECTIVE FALL 2016

Tuition and Segregated Fees for Online Courses

The following policy and procedures represent a recent change, approved by Chancellor Miller, in the way tuition and segregated fees are charged for Online courses. If you have questions, please contact the Student Service Center at gboss@uwgb.edu or the Bursar's Office at bursar@uwgb.edu.

Definition

An "Online Course" is defined as one in which 75 percent or more of the instruction and interaction takes place through a non-face-to-face modality. Online courses include those that employ correspondence study, or audio, video or computer technologies." The terms distance education; online; and internet are often used interchangeably.

Policy and Procedures

For purposes of assessing tuition, 'All' Graduate and Undergraduate students taking online courses (as defined by UW-Green Bay policy) pay resident tuition, segregated fees, and the per credit online course fee for all online courses within the tuition plateau.

Nonresident Graduate and Undergraduate students taking a mix of online and face-to-face courses are charged resident tuition and segregated fees on all course credits; applicable per credit online course fee for all online course credits; and applicable non-resident tuition for all face-to-face course credits.

Students pay the per credit online course fee for all online courses taken during a particular semester, session, or term regardless of the number of credits taken. Information for the online course fee can be found on the Bursar webpage. <http://www.uwgb.edu/bursar/>

The tuition plateau for Fall and Spring terms is between 12 and 18 credits for Undergraduate students and 9 credits for Graduate students.

January term does not have a tuition plateau.

Summer term tuition plateau is 6 to 9 credits for Undergraduate students. There is no tuition plateau on Summer term for Graduate students.

Collaborative Programs

Online courses taught in collaboration with external agencies or as part of programs with defined alternative funding models are assessed tuition and fees based on the applicable agreements or policies are not subject to this policy (e.g., BSN LINC, BSN@ Home, Collaborative MSW, HIMT, SMGT, HWM, Ed.D, etc.).
