

Figure 5. Flow-weighted period mean concentrations of TSS, total phosphorus (TP) and dissolved phosphorus (DP) during monitored period from the 14 primary stream monitoring stations. Ranked in descending order by TSS concentrations. These flow-weighted period mean concentrations compensate for annual discharge variations, so they are better suited for ranking the relative contributions of TSS and TP compared to yields shown in Figure 4.