

English Composition | 2013-2014 Assessment Report

Please answer the following two questions based on the data you collected as part of your Programmatic Assessment Plan.

1. Please give a brief overview of the data you collected. This can be in any form you feel is appropriate, such as a table, a short narrative of results, statistical analysis, highlighting findings that were of particular interest, etc. In short, it doesn't matter how you submit your findings.

Our data was to come from the final major essay assignment in all English Comp courses, with selected papers from that assignment to be read by members of a committee, who evaluate the essays according to a rubric and then meet to discuss the data. The semester just ended last week. Thus, we haven't yet examined the data and met.

2. How will you use what you've learned from the data that was collected? Some examples are: a change in assessment plan for the following year because you want to drill down deeper to find more or better information, faculty will discuss the data to decide what to do with it, curricular changes, faculty development, etc.

We will discuss the data (in fall, at an all-day teaching-of-writing workshop we always hold the week before the semester begins; in spring, at a Comp Teachers' meeting early in the semester) and decide what to do with it, both as individual teachers and as a program.
