Graduation and Retention Rates - "Student Right-to-Know"

Since July 1, 2000, all colleges and universities whose students use any federally-funded financial aid must inform current and prospective students and their parents about the school's graduation rates. These graduation rates are calculated for groups of new full-time fall freshmen, who are tracked for a minimum of six years. If you would like to get a printed copy of UW-Green Bay's graduation rates, please contact the Office of Institutional Research at (920)465-2374 or via e-mail at furlongd@uwgb.edu.

Some Facts About the Learning Environment at UW-Green Bay

Students complete an array of lectures, labs and discussion sections, and independent learning activities (such as internships and individual research projects).

In a typical fall semester, students can choose from approximately 650 lecture courses and 100 labs or discussions.

Faculty and academic staff teach all lectures and lead the majority of labs and discussion sections. Supervised graduate assistants have responsibility for approximately 20% of the labs and discussion sections.

Approximately 5% of all credit is earned through independent activities.

Very few undergraduate lecture courses contain more than 75 students. A third are very small, with under 20 students. The most typical class contains between 20 and 40 students. The average size is 33 students.

UW-Green Bay's student-faculty ratio is 22-to-1.

*Data on the fact sheet come from enrollments after ten days of fall classes. These early enrollments may vary some from final enrollment figures, which will be prepared in mid-October. Enrollments in the Extended Degree Program from 1/1/2002 through 6/30/2002 are fully integrated throughout the fact sheet.
