

Faculty College Call for Participants

2010 Faculty College will take place June 1-4 on the UW-Richland campus. Each UW System campus is invited to send a team consisting of their 2010-11 UWS Teaching Fellow and Scholar and up to four additional people. Costs are covered by OPID. The conference brochure can be viewed online at http://www.uwsa.edu/opid/conf/fc_upcoming.htm

If you are interested in attending Faculty College, contact Heidi Fencel at catl@uwgb.edu.

Faculty College 2010, sponsored by the UW System Office of Professional and Instructional Development, will be held once again at the UW-Richland campus, in Richland Center, from June 1-4, 2010. The College brings together approximately 100 faculty and instructional academic staff from across the System for three days of intensive exploration of teaching, learning and curricular issues.

This year OPID is pleased to feature an exciting lineup of workshops:

“Decoding the Disciplines,” by Joan Middendorf and Leah Shopkow. Joan Middendorf is a long time educational developer who serves as Associate Director of Campus Instructional Consulting Center and Adjunct Professor in Higher Education Administration at Indiana University Bloomington. Leah Shopkow is an Associate Professor of History at Indiana University Bloomington;

“Looking Inside the Black Box: Exploring How Students Learn,” by Bill Cerbin, Professor of Psychology and Director of the UW-La Crosse Center for Advancing Teaching and Learning;

“Inclusive Excellence in the Classroom: Creating Equitable Learning Experiences for All Students,” by Paul C. Gorski, founder of EdChange and Assistant Professor in Integrative Studies at George Mason University;

“Gathering SoTL Evidence: Methods for Systematic Inquiry into Student Learning,” by Renee A. Meyers, Coordinator of the UW System Leadership Site for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning and Professor of Communication at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

In addition, this year’s keynote speakers will be Joan Middendorf and Leah Shopkow. They will be introducing all the participants to “Decoding the Disciplines.”

Questions about Faculty College should be directed to the CATL office (x2199) or to Kimberly Kile, OPID Institutional Planner, at 608/262-4337 or opid@uwsa.edu.
