What's the Classified Staff Advisory Council all about?

Mission Statement

All University of Wisconsin-Green Bay classified staff are eligible to become a member of this Council and participate in its mission. The purpose of the Council is to promote on-going education, training, and communication among all classified employees and to build a foundation for mutual understanding and respect with the broader University community. The Council is not a governance group, but could serve in an advisory capacity when called upon to do so by an officer of the institution (i.e., Chancellor, Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, Vice Chancellor for Business and Finance, Assistant Chancellor for Planning and Budget, Assistant Chancellor for University Advancement).

About the Speakers

Steve Tyink is widely known for creating and sustaining relationship-driven, emotionally connected, customer-centered organizations in multiple industries. As founder of Attach, LLC, Steve is committed to connecting customers, employees, managers, and the community while embracing the revolutionary strategy of Customer Attachment.

Steve has put his revolutionary customer attachment philosophies successfully into practice, winning multiple awards. In addition to his current position and a successful career in the automotive business, Steve served as a senior leader in the hospitality and golf industries and was selected by President William J. Clinton to represent the hospitality industry on the Employment of People with Disabilities Committee in Washington, D.C. Steve has co-authored Monkey Business: 7 Laws of the Jungle for Becoming the Best of the Bunch, in bookstores nationwide (Gibbs Smith, Publisher).

During our morning session, Steve will help us focus on the seed for change, professional development, and designing our own experience.

You can read more about Steve on his website at: www.attachmentworks.com.

Amanda Gourgue is a Certified Meeting Professional, Chief Meeting Revolutionist for Meeting Revolution, and Chair of the Membership Committee for Meeting Professional International, New England Chapter. She has had 12 years of experience in the hospitality and meetings industry, including working with Walt Disney World Resort.

Amanda created Meeting Revolution out of a growing need for more environmentally friendly meetings. Her company's passion is to save the world, one meeting at a time. They offer conference management, consulting, and training services, and donate time to various worthwhile causes and organizations.

During our afternoon session, Amanda will help us recognize ways to "go green" at work and at home, identify Energy Star and LEED, and get a fuller understanding of the "Greener Picture."

You can read more about Amanda on her website at: www.startameetingrevolution.com.
