

The Tony Galt Student Travel Scholarship

Tony Galt spent 34 years at UW-Green Bay teaching Social Change and Development and Chairing the Anthropology Department. During his tenure at UWGB, Professor Galt traveled to Italy several times to conduct research in historical and ethnographic studies on the island of Pantelleria and in Locorotondo. Professor Galt is fondly remembered for his many contributions to campus, including being the first to integrate Web-technology into his courses and publishing several books on Anthropology and Italy. Professor Galt inspired others to experience new adventures and see the beauty of the world through travel and photography.

In Professor Galt's memory, the Tony Galt Student International Travel Scholarship Fund will award one UW-Green Bay student per year a $2,500 scholarship for use in enhancing their academic experiences as participants in a UW-Green Bay Study Abroad Program, through overseas research, independent study, enrollment in foreign a foreign university, or participation in an organized study abroad program offered by an accredited institution of higher education.

Eligibility Criteria:

1. Fully complete and signed application
2. Currently enrolled UW-Green Bay undergraduate or graduate student in good academic standing
3. Will participate in an overseas academic program
4. Personally meet with scholarship donors prior to departure and following the sojourn abroad to discuss program expectations, outcomes, and experiences

Application Deadline: October 1st

Contact Information

Last Name:		First Name:
Address:
City:	State:	Zip Code:
Email:		Phone

UWGB Information

Student ID:	Number of Credits Completed:	GPA:
Major:		2 nd Major/Minor:
Are you currently eligible for financial aid?		Yes No

Program Information

Name of program you are participating in:
Approximate cost of program:

Personal Essay:

Please attach a typewritten statement explaining why you have chosen to study abroad and/or participate in overseas research, and how receiving the Tony Galt Student Travel Scholarship will help you achieve your goals.