This worksheet is intended to help you plan for your direct costs at UW-Green Bay. Enter charges and any anticipated aid to determine your remaining out-of-pocket expense or refund amount for each term. The most accurate information about your financial aid offer will always be available in the Student Information System (SIS). The Student Billing Resources Office posts actual charges in SIS approximately one month before each semester begins. You can learn more about estimated costs at www.uwgb.edu/financial-aid/coa. Please see the other side of this worksheet to learn about additional resources and who to contact with any questions.

(Amounts greater than zero represent your estimated out-of-pocket cost. Amounts less than zero represent your estimated refund.)

* Direct Costs are expenses UW-Green Bay charges to student accounts in the Student Information System (SIS). Your direct costs might not include all of the items in this list (e.g., if you are commuting from home).

** Other costs may include one-time fees: $212 freshman orientation fee, $60 transfer student orientation fee. To see information on other fees, go to www.uwgb.edu/student-billing/tuition-fees/other-fees. For parking fee information, see www.uwgb.edu/public-safety.
