"The Sheboygan campus is a great place to get the start you need to be successful at a larger school. I love the personalized access to professors and their willingness to help students with whatever they may need. Another benefit of a smaller campus is that it's easy to make your voice heard in a meaningful way. Once your voice gets results, people tend to listen with more interest. An identifiable voice on the Sheboygan campus will definitely help me find my voice on a larger campus and in everyday life."
