

COMMON THEME IN THE CLASSROOM

ART 453: Advanced Textiles (Alison Gates)

- Students will present work of recycled materials in the 407 gallery the last week of October

ENGLISH 333: Literary Themes: Environmental Literature (Catherine Henze)

- Reading An Inconvenient Truth by Al Gore

ENV S&P 763: Seminar in Environmental Science and Policy (Kevin Fermanich and Michael Kraft)

- Course has sustainability focus

FIRST YEAR SEMINARS

- Students will attend Jon Waterman presentation on campus and write a response paper concerning how interdisciplinarity can be used to solve the environmental issues he discussed

MUSIC 146 and 246: Contemporary Percussion Ensemble (Cheryl Grosso)

- Students will learn and perform Professor Grosso's new composition on instruments she made from scrap metal and used items; performance is December 11 in the University Theater

PEA 102: Environment and Society (Laurel Phoenix)

- Course has sustainability focus

PEA/POL SCI 301: Environmental Politics and Policy (Michael Kraft)

- Course has sustainability focus

PEA 483M: Sustainable Communities (Laurel Phoenix)

- Course has sustainability focus

POL SCI 100: Global Politics and Society (Katia Levintova)

- Students will participate in a Global Summit on Sustainable Development on November 6, 2009. It is a 2-month long assignment that deals directly with global sustainability as students debate and adapt a global policy promoting it.

POL SCI 101: American Government and Politics (Katia Levintova)

- Students will participate in a Global Summit on Sustainable Development on November 6, 2009. It is a 2-month long assignment that deals directly with global sustainability as students debate and adapt a global policy promoting it.