

Case Study #5: Sharon Delay

Small Group Information

Group Task: Your leader has information about Sharon. Your task, for the first 20 minutes, is to obtain as much information as possible about Sharon that will help you understand more about her and what factors may be affecting her decisional capacity in this situation. In the last 5 minutes, your leader will provide you with any relevant remaining information about the client that has not been uncovered.

Using this sheet, ask one member of your group to fill in the information you know about this client based upon the leader's answers to the group. Discuss how these factors might affect Sharon's decisional capacity.
