What You'll Learn

When a leader coaches for performance, they create an environment where employees and teams not only understand and embrace goals but meet and exceed them. Things will run smoothly even when you're not on-site, and you'll have time to focus on long-range business strategies. In this class, you will learn how to create a culture of accomplishment by:

- Learning strategies to maximize your employees' performance standards.
- Coaching employees to leverage their potential.
- Setting SMART goals to develop measurable results.
- Improving your communication style to earn the respect of peers, managers and employees.
- Improving your reputation and credibility as a leader.
- Gaining confidence in your ability to understand and influence others.

Learning Environment

The learning environment for Coaching for Performance has been carefully designed to insure maximum benefit. This program will provide you with the tools to become a better leader, while keeping you engaged through discussion, assessments, case studies and exercises.

Who Should Attend

- Small business owners
- Team leaders
- Supervisors
- Managers

Although our workshops are designed for people who supervise others, the concepts and skills taught are also relevant to anyone who works with people in a team environment. Whether you own your own business, or work in an office, at an agency, in a health care facility or manufacturing plant, you will take away valuable insights and skills to apply to your particular work situation.
