

Green Tour

INSTRUCTIONAL SERVICES

- The Instructional Services department is located completely underground within the campus tunnels, and the roof above it serves as a great location for growing plants.
- The roof is considered a green roof, and students and staff take on the responsibility of maintaining the native plants that are grown on top of it.
- Green roofs offer many environmental benefits such as water retention, greater insulation for increased energy efficiency, and improved air quality.

