

Evidence-Based Assessment and Interventions for Self-Injury

Trainer: Jennifer Muehlenkamp, PhD

Training Description:

Self-injury among youth continues to baffle providers, parents, counselors, and school staff. Learn the latest on what self-injury is, why people engage in it, and how best to support youth. After establishing some foundational knowledge, this workshop will focus on evidence-based assessment approaches, monitoring risk for suicide, and some treatment options (emphasizing a few specific strategies). This workshop is engaging – using case examples, small group discussions, and role plays.

Fee: $35 (members); $135 (partial & nonmembers)
