Office Hours, M-F during hours 3 and 5, in room 136 or 101

Grades: 11 & 12
Prerequisites: Standard GPA 3.0/4.0 scale or teacher recommendation, an interest in the Education Career Pathways positions and enrollment in YTY within the 2019-20 school year.

Semester course: ½ credit (Honors) with option of earning 3 college credits through UWGB at a discounted tuition fee

Course Description:
This course, along with one semester of Youth Tutoring Youth (within the 2019-20 school year), provides an introduction to and a broad perspective of a future career in the field of education.
Through class participation and hands-on experiences, students will explore contemporary issues and examine the challenges and rewards of working in education. The YTY field experience offers students the opportunity to shadow and assist a supervising teacher in a classroom at the elementary, middle, or high school levels. Concepts explored in both classes will include the historical perspective of education in America, gender differences, multicultural education and diversity, including learners with exceptionalities, legislation, planning for instruction, and classroom management. Successful completion of this course and YTY offers the option of earning 3 college credits at UWGB at a discounted tuition fee.

Course Objectives:
1. To explore the historical and contemporary issues affecting the field of education.
2. To examine varied perspectives and personal beliefs about the purpose of schools, how students learn, and the role of educators, pedagogy, and legal issues in education.
3. To develop an understanding of and appreciation for student diversity, culture, language, gender, and exceptionalities within the educational setting.
4. To participate with individual or small groups of students under the supervision of a classroom teacher through YTY.
5. To examine the appropriateness of education as a personal career choice.
6. To formulate a personal philosophy of education.
7. To reflect on personal beliefs and professional development options that can contribute to a successful teaching career.

Required Readings:
Kauchak, Donald P. and Paul D. Eggen. Introduction to Teaching: Becoming a Professional

In addition, a variety of supplemental reading materials will be utilized to expand the scope of course topics.
Course Policies:

Assignments/ Assessments - This course requires participation in seminar sessions formatted as lectures, class discussions, collaborations, or guest speakers presentations, the completion of weekly assignments, and 35 field experience hours in area schools. Assessments will be in the form of written unit tests and projects designed to demonstrate learning.

Responsibilities - As a representative of the teaching profession and the University of Wisconsin Green Bay dual credit program, students are expected to maintain all work on the level of college freshmen and demonstrate open-mindedness and engagement in the classroom. During field experiences students should dress and behave professionally.

Academic Honesty - Academic honesty is expected; academic theft receives serious consequences in school, colleges, and professional settings. It is essential for students to complete their own work at all times. Plagiarism is the deliberate or unintentional use of another person’s words or ideas without giving proper credit. Please review the SASD Rights and Responsibilities Booklet for the district policy on plagiarism and academic dishonesty.

Late Work - Assignments are accepted for full credit on the due date. Work turned in late is subject to grade deductions with the exception of verified excused absences. If an absence is excused, it is expected that the work be turned in within two days of return to school. If an absence is pre-arranged, it is expected the student will obtain homework, submit assignments and projects, and take tests prior to the pre-arranged absence.

Missing work is entered as “O” in Skyward until completed. The zero will be replaced with the late-deduction score upon completion.

Assessment Categories and Weights:

25% Unit Tests and Projects
