Course web site : We will be using the district Google classroom site for access to assignments and labs and Powerschool for grading information. Work needs to be turned in during class or by school email. Essential Questions to be answered in the course:

1. How does time affect the way in which you communicate?
2. How does your choice of grammar influence the quality of your communication?
3. How does culture knowledge influence the effectiveness of communication?
4. How does choice of diction affect your communication skills?
5. What can we learn about our own language and culture from studying another?

Required Text :

BRAVO 6th Edition by Judy Muyskens, Linda Harlow, Michele Vialet and JeanFrançois Brière Heinle, Cengage Learning (2009). Provided in class. French/English Dictionaries are also available for check out although we strongly encourage you to have one of your own.

Classroom Expectations:

You are expected to come to class every day prepared. You must complete your assignments on time. Failure to do so means you will not be able to participate as much because you were unprepared which will lower your participation score. You must expect to do more independent learning because this is a college course so you must try to find the answers yourself before going to the teacher for help. You must be proactive in using your online resources and textbook resources that are available to you. Remember you must achieve a B or better if you hope to receive retroactive credit so stay on task and keep your eye on the prize!

There will be daily homework and class preparation, including grammar and vocabulary exercises, reading and writing tasks, audio/video assignments, and other appropriate tasks.

You will write an essay at the end of each unit giving you the opportunity to demonstrate your knowledge of the vocabulary and grammar covered in that chapter.

9 chapter tests. One oral evaluation for each chapter One semester exam after Unit 4 One final oral interview with the instructor One final exam. Evaluation
