Graduate Student Travel Grant Application

Grants are available for UW-Green Bay, degree-seeking graduate students to support activities contributing to the enhancement and completion of graduate degrees. Awarded funds can be used to cover the costs associated with attendance at relevant conferences, workshops, or related educational events. Students presenting papers or posters as a part of their travel will be given priority. Up to $250.00 will be awarded per request, and a maximum of $500 per student per year. Applications must be received 30 days prior to the meeting or travel start date. Please complete the remainder of the form, electronically sign, and send to your faculty sponsor with necessary supporting documentation (including budget). Faculty sponsors should write a brief statement of support to be included with the application. Students should send their completed application to gradstu@uwgb.edu.

Post Travel Request: We encourage award recipients to share your experience presenting your research publicly. This can include a brief statement of your experience and/or photographs related to your travel or research. While this is not required, submitted statements and photos will be submitted on our social media. Completing of a release form is requested.
