INCLEMENT WEATHER/EMERGENCY CONDITIONS

GB-50-19-1

The Chancellor has the authority to cancel classes, close all or part of the institution to the public, or completely close all or part of an institution to the public and employees based on emergency or unsafe conditions caused by weather. The Chancellor may make determinations as to the limited nature of reductions in operations based on these conditions or close the institution.

It is preferable to ensure that the institution remain open to all staff, if at all possible, even where cancellation of classes or public events is necessary. When inclement weather or emergency conditions exist, every effort will be made to keep the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay open and operating as normal. However, where the health and safety of students, employees or the public would be placed at risk, or conditions prevent the normal operation or services of the University, the nature and extent of any action to be taken will be determined by the appropriate administrator.

STUDENT & STAFF EXPECTATIONS:

The Provost may cancel classes for a period of time. If such cancellation is issued, an instructor may not elect to hold a class during that time. Distance and online courses will be governed by the campus from which they originate.

If classes are not cancelled, it is expected that the course will be held as scheduled. Students who are unable to attend class due to safety concerns caused by weather shall be required to notify the instructor of their absence as required.

Consistent with UW System Administrative Policy 1235, employees, including student employees, are expected to report to work unless an absence or other arrangement is approved by the employee’s supervisor. Employees are expected to notify their supervisors if they cannot report to work or will report late. With explicit permission alternative work arrangements (working from home, extend hours within the same week) may be granted. Supervisors shall require the employee to make up lost time if required for the operation of the work unit.

In the event of Institutional Closures non-essential employees may be permitted not to report to work. Employees at work when the institution is closed will be given the option of remaining at work or leaving their worksite, operational needs permitting. Employees necessary for operations shall not be permitted to leave during an institutional closure.

Employees absent from work because of inclement weather or emergency conditions must use available vacation, accrued compensatory time, available holidays, or leave without pay to cover the absence, or they may arrange another work schedule with their supervisor. Supervisors may require the employee to make up lost time during the same workweek of the absence if required for the operation of the work unit. Employees who are not exempt from the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) overtime pay provisions (i.e., those who must be paid overtime for hours worked over 40 in a workweek) must account for each hour of scheduled duty during the workweek. FLSA exempt employees may account for their time in a manner consistent with their professional responsibilities, as approved by their supervisor.
