Grading:
Student grades are calculated with the following percentages:
Homework (notes, daily class work, out of class assignments, etc.) 20%
Quizzes 25%
Projects (unit written and/or verbal assessments) 30%
Participation (interpersonal rubric, daily sharing, etc.) 25%

Students will be assessed based on their proficiency level. Given the differences in student learning styles, grading is based on a variety of activities.

In most cases students will be able to redo assignments and assessments unless otherwise indicated. If a student chooses to redo an assignment, it will not replace their original grade, but will be entered as an additional score. This is to show growth from the first assignment.
