MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Dear Graduate,

Today, we celebrate your remarkable accomplishments, unwavering perseverance and relentless determination to complete your degree. Congratulations!

I am thrilled to share this significant occasion with you. To reach this point, you have balanced commitments to work, friends, and family with studies, and overcome numerous challenges to reach this goal.

This is how you RISE!

I hold the greatest admiration for you and applaud the dedicated members of the UW-Green Bay faculty and staff who supported you along this journey. Your determined efforts have prepared you to be a leader in your respective fields. I urge you to use your experience to foster genuine connections, solve problems and think creatively to address future challenges.

My greatest hope is that you leave not only with a degree but with a profound understanding of the responsibility that comes with it—to value those around you, to see the world through many lenses, and to lead for the greater good, in whatever path you choose. While this degree marks a significant milestone in your education, I urge you to continue learning throughout your entire life.

Remember, there is great potential to make a difference for each of you. I hope you will realize that full potential and join the 50,000-plus Phoenix alumni who are making a positive impact in their communities.

Now and forever more, YOU are a Phoenix. You advance fearlessly, take charge and believe in your ability to shape the future, you are dedicated to a life of learning, you create a supportive, connected and collaborative environment where everyone can thrive and you cherish the journey and those who journey with you. You rise.

It is an honor for me to serve this great University and to celebrate this important milestone in your life with you!

With deep appreciation,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Michael Alexander". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, stylized "M" and "A".

Michael Alexander, Chancellor
University of Wisconsin-Green Bay

ACADEMIC RITUAL AND ATTIRE

The procedure followed for awarding of degrees at most American universities is based on a practice developed at the University of Paris almost 800 years ago. In those days, the Bishop of Paris, like every other bishop, was responsible for educational matters. As the new university developed, he naturally claimed authority over curriculum and degree granting. His authority however was disputed by teachers who asserted only they could judge students' qualifications.

A threatened impasse was resolved by a compromise under which the teachers judged the merits of the students and then recommended them to the bishop for their degrees. You see a secularized version with the Vice Chancellor, as representative of the faculty, certifying the students as qualified. The Chancellor, as representative of the Regents, who have replaced the bishop as the governing authority, then authorizes the awarding of degrees.

The caps and gowns worn by graduates and faculty are based on costumes used in universities of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge in England. The academic dress has been used in the United States from colonial times and was standardized by Intercollegiate Code in 1895. The black gowns worn by the associate, bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree holders differ in design and ornamentation, particularly in the sleeves. The cap is black mortarboard with the tassel worn over the left front quadrant. Undergraduate candidates shift their tassel from right to left at the time their degrees are conferred.

Hoods symbolize the master's and doctoral degrees, with the colors representing the field of study and the awarding institution. Graduates may wear regalia in recognition of academic status and honor society memberships.

THE MEANING OF HONORS

The use of Latin terms reflects the medieval origins of academic ceremony: cum laude indicates distinction; magna cum laude, great distinction; summa cum laude, highest distinction.

At UW-Green Bay, students achieve a 3.5 to 3.749 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) to graduate cum laude. Magna cum laude honors are awarded to students who achieve a cumulative average of 3.75 to 3.849. For highest honors — summa cum laude — students must average 3.85 or higher; or a 3.75 to 3.849 plus eligibility for and successful completion of an honors-in-the-major project. To qualify for honors, students must complete 48 credits in residence.

Some majors offer special distinction honors in the major. For this distinction, students must achieve a 3.5 or higher grade point average on all courses required for their major, and a 3.75 grade point in all junior-senior level major courses required, and complete an honors-in-the-major project.

Students graduating with honors will be recognized as such with the following after their name:

- * Cum laude
- ** Magna cum laude
- *** Summa cum laude
- † Honors in the major
- + With Honors

AASHVI PANDEY

Putting the Pieces Together

Adaptability and perseverance are essential for a successful college career, especially when aspiring to medical school. For Aashvi Pandey, the ability to adapt came early when she moved half a world away as a child. Equally important as mastery of the art of healing, is the art of caring. She says, “Showing someone respect—sometimes that’s all they need. You just have to listen and care.”

As an aspiring medical student, the capacity to care can get an early test when confronting the realities of patient care. Pandey faced those realities almost immediately, volunteering as a patient sitter in an emergency room at age eighteen. Those moments also gave her a firsthand experience of the highs and lows of healthcare delivery.

“If they [patients] came in and they wanted to hurt themselves or hurt others, they would require one-on-one attention.” She remembers the challenges of managing patients with dementia. “Sometimes they were very combative. But once you get them out of that state, you talk to them like any other person.”

Did these raw encounters give Pandey second thoughts about her chosen path? “No, absolutely not,” she recalls. “It was inspiring. I’m with this person. I’m helping them. It was gratifying.”

Her mother remarried and relocated from India to Green Bay when Pandey was seven. “I can still recall the hot climate, monsoon season and monkeys stealing their mango plants. My grandpa and I would go and make paper boats, and we would play outside in the rain.”

An introspective personality added to her adjustment. “I was a very quiet child when I came here and didn’t know fully how to speak English.” Despite this, she gradually adapted to her new environment, making friends and adjusting to life. “It was hard to fit in, but I made some friends eventually. It was all good.”

“All good” meant enjoying high school and planning for college. Pandey decided early to pursue medicine and attend UW-Green Bay. “I chose Green Bay because it felt like home. I thought it would be a perfect choice.”

Her high school grades had always been good, but transitioning to college was a fresh challenge, especially after the COVID-19 lockdown her senior year in high school. She had to adjust to attending classes in person again, this time in a completely new environment.

"My freshman year was hard for me, transitioning from being all online to being in a classroom again. I struggled. I'm the first one to say it. My first year was not great."

Pandey knew she needed help and, in her own words, "get my act together."

A pre-med track does not afford the luxury of time. Pandey was aspiring to attend medical school and as she now acknowledges, "you don't have a lot of leeway there. You've got to start thinking like a doctor from day one."

Pandey also started thinking like a teacher. And her teachers noticed.

"Over the past several years, Aashvi has shown a remarkable commitment to her fellow students, especially those in need of guidance," recalls Kiel Nikolakakis,

UW-Green Bay associate teaching professor in Chemistry. "She consistently made herself available outside of class if students needed to ask questions or talk about their college experience and provided them with honest and open advice based on her past experiences."

Those contributions have expanded Pandey's aspirations to extend beyond medicine to teaching. "I want to do something with family medicine just because it aligns with my ideals."

And while Pandey generously acknowledges all the assistance along the way, she's still had to do the work and maintain her focus. For that, Amanda Nelson, UW-Green Bay associate professor of Human Biology and student advisor gives Pandey full credit plus a positive prognosis. "I've helped show her where the puzzle pieces are, but she's had to embrace and collect those pieces and put the picture together." To that she adds, "she's going to be a phenomenal physician."

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Major General (Retired) Marcia Anderson

Major General (Retired) Marcia Anderson's military career spanned 36 years in the Army Reserve and on Active Duty until she retired in 2016.

General Anderson has a bachelor's degree from Creighton University, a master's degree in Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College, and a law degree from the Rutgers University School of Law. She has several military awards to include the Army Distinguished Service Medal, the Legion of Merit, as well as the Parachutists Badge.

She was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in 1979 and served in various leadership and staff roles throughout her career. She was promoted in 2008 to Brigadier General and in 2011, General Anderson became the first African American female Major General in the history of the Army, Army Reserve or National Guard. She was subsequently assigned as the Deputy Chief Army Reserve in 2011 and served for three years at the Pentagon with oversight for an $8 billion budget and 200,000 Soldiers and Civilians.

General Anderson retired in 2019 from the United States Courts, where she served as the Clerk of the Bankruptcy Court, Western District of Wisconsin, located in Madison, Wisconsin. She is active in her community, and she currently serves as a member of the Green Bay Packers Executive Committee and Board of Directors as well as a serving on the boards of Directors for MGE Energy and Nicolet National Bank. In addition, she is a member of the Wisconsin Historical Society's Board of Curators. Since 2016, General Anderson has served on the Department of Defense Advisory Committee on Investigation, Defense and Prosecution and Defense of Sexual Assault in the Armed Forces and was appointed in 2021 as a Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army (CASA) for Wisconsin.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay acknowledge the First Nations people who are the original inhabitants of the region. The Ho-Chunk Nation and the Menominee Nation are the original First People of Wisconsin and both Nations have ancient historical and spiritual connections to the land that our institution now resides upon. Today, Wisconsin is home to 12 First Nations communities including the Oneida Nation of Wisconsin, Forest County Potawatomi, Ojibwe Nation communities, Stockbridge-Munsee Community Band of Mohican Indians, and the Brothertown Indian Nation.

We acknowledge the First Nations Peoples of Wisconsin.

PHOENIX FIGHT SONG

Hail! To the Fighting Phoenix
Rise up and light the flame!
Green Bay is the home of Champions
We're gonna' win this game!
Hail! To the Fighting Phoenix
We're rising up to say
Fight! Fight! Fight! For a win tonight
The Champions from old Green Bay!

ALMA MATER

Let us rise above these waters,
Men and women of Green Bay.
Rise in knowledge,
Rise in wisdom,
Rise in friendship sealed today.
As the Phoenix rose from flame,
Let us rise and still proclaim,
That we pledge our Alma Mater,
And the memories of her name.

"Alma Mater" composed by Prof. Emeritus Lovell Ives with lyrics by former Prof. Peter Stambler
