Resolution on General Education Reform

Resolved: The Faculty Senate supports the model of general education in the following materials (presented at an Open Forum at the Senate’s May 2, 2012 meeting) with a target implementation date of fall 2014.

Goals of the General Education Task Force

At the end of the spring semester (2011), the Task Force agreed on a working model that would be used to discuss with the faculty in all of the interdisciplinary units during the fall semester (2011). As approved by the General Education Council and the Faculty Senate, the Task Force has proceeded in its discussions and development based the following purpose and mission statement.

General Education Purpose and Mission

The UWGB General Education Program supports the University’s Select Mission by providing an interdisciplinary, problem-focused educational experience that prepares students to think critically and address complex issues in a multicultural and evolving world.

To that end, the UWGB General Education Program will help to develop liberally educated students and facilitate their living in an ever changing world by:

1. Introducing students to interdisciplinary education;
   - This goal relates most directly to the primary mission of UWGB and ensures that students have an introduction to interdisciplinarity and its importance early in their career.
2. Providing knowledge that includes disciplinary breadth;
   - Students must have adequate breadth of knowledge and course work that is representative of distinct ways of thinking.
3. Working with students to develop an understanding of critical social problems;
   - In order to have an appropriate understanding of problems and issues (e.g., sustainability) regardless of their eventual major, students must have background and/or a variety of experiences from global and multicultural perspectives. In addition, UWGB’s select mission recognizes the importance of a university education to promote engaged citizens. The General Education program will help foster these elements of a student’s education.
4. Supporting the development of important academic skills including communication, critical thinking, problem solving, and quantitative and information literacy.
   - Certain skills are critical for any liberally educated individual in order to promote life-long learning and understand the complexity of the issues and problems of our world.

Based on the above direction, research, and discussions, the Task Force developed its draft model that was discussed at the unit meetings (see Appendix A).

Advantages of the Draft Model

The Task Force sees this model as providing a number of advantages for our General Education program:

1. General Education should be reflective of our mission. What we’re proposing does that, in accordance with what the Faculty Senate approved.
2. General Education should be distinctive to Green Bay. It needs to reflect what we do well. This proposal takes into account UWGB’s distinctive competencies (e.g., focus on interdisciplinarity, problem-solving, and sustainability).
3. The proposed General Education better enables integration with the rest of the curriculum.
4. Conversations in higher education across the country argue for making college in general, and General Education in particular, more relevant to society. This proposal includes a focus on complex societal issues that require an informed citizenry to resolve.
5. The number of credits associated with this proposal is approximately the same as the existing number of required Gen Ed credits.
6. This proposal offers faculty members needed flexibility, in terms of courses to be taught and the categories in which they fit.
7. The proposed program is simpler to understand and explain than the current Gen Ed program.
8. The proposed program is a coherent package, with a beginning (first year seminar) and an end (capstone seminar or experience), and clearly delineated and understandable elements in between. It will be easier to explain our General Education program to incoming freshmen and their parents. The program starts with an interdisciplinary seminar that introduces students to UWGB’s distinctive academic plan. In order to fully develop their capacity to engage in interdisciplinary problem-solving, students are next introduced to breadth in the disciplines. Then, students are asked to examine complex, societal issues from several perspectives (global, ethnic, sustainability). Throughout the Gen Ed program, students build the technical and personal skills needed to succeed in their advanced courses and careers. Finally, students complete a capstone seminar or capstone experience that integrates their Gen Ed and advanced courses into a cohesive whole.
9. This is a draft framework. The details about specific courses will be determined at the unit, domain, and governance levels.

Next Steps

The General education Task Force presented the framework to the Faculty Senate at its May 2012 meeting with an expectation of a vote this fall. The Task Force will continue to take feedback and consider changes. The Task Force has been working with the unit chairs on modeling resource implications. Governance will vote on the framework, and then considerable dialogue will ensue engaging all relevant parties in the discussion of details. The Task Force will not decide which courses fit where. That will be a mutual decision of units and the General Education Council, consistent with our code and practice.

In order to support UW-Green Bay’s General Education Purpose and Mission statement particularly the following point (4) where the “General Education program will help to develop liberally educated students and facilitate their living in an ever changing world by:

Supporting the development of important academic skills including communication, critical thinking, problem solving, quantitative literacy and information literacy,”

The General Education Task Force is recommending that courses within the General Education curriculum incorporate certain skills that are appropriate for the category of classes in which the course falls within the General Education curriculum.

Points to Consider:

- These represent the minimum skill elements for the courses. Faculty can choose to do more if they wish.
- In most cases it is not the role of General Education to ensure mastery of these skills. It is to introduce and then build upon the introduction.

Resolution on the Flexible Degree Proposal #1

Whereas the UWGB faculty has concerns about the process by which the Flexible Degree program is being implemented; and

Whereas the UWGB faculty doubts that the Flexible degree program will meet the academic standards of a university education; and

Whereas the UWGB faculty holds that a college experience rather than merely a list of competencies is important; therefore be it

Resolved that the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay Faculty Senate disapproves of the current University of Wisconsin System proposal to establish a Flexible Degree.
Faculty Senate Document #12-04 – Approved 10/3/2012

Resolution on the Flexible Degree Proposal #2

Whereas a member of the UW Flexible Degree Committee would help gauge how or whether UWGB should be involved in the Flexible Degree Program; and

Whereas the Flexible Degree Committee would provide input to help formulate the Flexible Degree; therefore be it

Resolved that the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay Faculty Senate recommends that the University Committee appoint a representative to the Flexible Degree Committee.

Faculty Senate New Business 5b 10/3/2012
Proposal to Change Charge of Committee on Workload and Compensation

The proposal is to add the boldface items to the charge below:

Committee Charge:

1. The Joint Committee on Workload and Compensation (CWC) shall be composed of six members. The Academic Staff Committee (ASC) shall appoint three Academic Staff representatives, and the University Committee shall appoint three tenured faculty representatives: one from the College of Professional Studies, one from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and one at-large, subject to the condition that at least one of the three members shall also be a member of the Graduate Faculty. These members shall serve three year terms (eventually, but not initially, to be staggered terms). In addition, the Director of Institutional Research, one representative from the ASC, one representative from the Classified Staff Advisory Council (CSAC) to be appointed by the Classified Staff Advisory Committee, and one from the UC shall serve as ex officio (non-voting) members of the CWC, and shall each serve one year terms, or be re-appointed annually for the duration of their service on the ASC, CSAC, or UC.

2. The chair of said committee shall attend a meeting of the UC and the ASC at least once per semester to update them and report on plans and progress.

3. The CWC is charged with both reporting and action responsibilities:

   a. In light of prevailing fiscal conditions, the committee is charged with:

      I. identifying the various existing and potential components of workload and forms of compensation for faculty and academic staff,

      II. identifying areas of concern and stress among personnel relating to workload and compensation, and

      III. formulating options for remedying perceived workload and compensation shortcomings, dysfunctional procedures, or inequities on this campus.

      Rather than creating formal reports, the committee is asked to simply advise the UC and the ASC on an ongoing basis (per item 2, above).

   b. On an ongoing basis, and at least once per semester, the committee is asked to present proposals (relating to 3a) to the Academic Staff Committee and the Faculty Senate for action.

Proposal to Code Change on Academic Affairs Council Functions

The intent of this change is to remove the duplication created last year when the Senate gave the Graduate Studies Council authority over courses and curriculum at the graduate level. The intent of that change was to make the GSC parallel to the Academic Affairs Council in approving courses and curricular changes. Authority was added to the GSC but not removed from the AAC. This proposal removes references to graduate courses and curriculum in the Code section on the AAC.

54.03 Functions of the Councils
A. Academic Affairs Council
1. Upon request of the appropriate Dean(s), the Academic Affairs Council shall approve or disapprove of all new programs or on modification to existing programs (majors and/or minors), and on all new credit courses or modifications to existing credit courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

2. The Academic Affairs Council shall have the responsibility and authority for review of all credit courses and all academic programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Its official response, including its decision, shall be forwarded to the Faculty Senate through the University Committee. The Faculty Senate will publish all curricular decisions made by the Academic Affairs Council in the minutes of its monthly meetings and forward them along with copies of all official Academic Affairs Council correspondence to the Provost/Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

In a case where the Academic Affairs Council does not approve a new course or program, the initiator of that new course or program may ask the Academic Affairs Council for reconsideration of the decision, providing new arguments or supplementary evidence in support of the claim or making appropriate modifications in the proposal to meet the Academic Affairs Council’s published objections. If this initial appeal fails to produce a satisfactory conclusion in the view of the initiator, a second appeal to the University Committee is possible. In such cases the University Committee may investigate the appeal themselves or establish an ad hoc committee to do so. If the University Committee chooses to overturn the second no approval decision, the results of that deliberation will be reported to the Senate, published in the Senate minutes and forwarded to the Provost/Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

3. The Academic Affairs Council shall have the responsibility for examining the interrelationships among program areas in the University and for overseeing for the faculty the total academic plan and its various programs and components. This examining and overseeing function shall include, but not be limited to, the reviewing of course titles and content for duplication, and the monitoring of records pertaining to enrollments in lower division courses, upper division courses, the graduate program, and career and adult education courses. The final decision of the Council shall be forwarded to the Faculty Senate through the University Committee. The Faculty Senate will publish all curricular decisions of the Academic Affairs
Council in the minutes of its monthly meetings and forward them along with copies of all official Academic Affairs Council correspondence to the Provost/Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.

4. On its own initiative, or upon request of the University Committee, the Academic Affairs Council may advise the Faculty Senate about issues of educational policy and implementation that fall within the jurisdiction of the Faculty.

5. The Academic Affairs Council shall annually provide the Secretary of the Faculty and Academic Staff, for inclusion in the Faculty Governance Handbook, a current list of: 1) Interdisciplinary Units and 2) approved academic programs (including majors, minors, emphases, graduate programs, and certificate programs).

Whereas, UW-Green Bay administration has worked with the Joint Committee on Workload and Compensation (CWC) to initiate an external study on campus workload, compensation, and staffing issues, and

Whereas, a preliminary report by the consultant has been issued to the campus community, and that the data show significant compensation misalignment across many of our employment categories, and

Whereas, UW-Green Bay administration has expressed a definite commitment to rectifying these inequities wherever it is financially possible to do so, and

Whereas, UW-Green Bay administration, together with the CWC, has established a campus compensation philosophy wherein transparency of process is identified as a paramount feature of our campus strategy going forward,

Therefore be it resolved, that the UW-Green Bay Faculty Senate requests that the Chancellor allow the University Committee to appoint one of its members as a liaison between the Chancellor’s Cabinet and the UW-Green Bay faculty.
